Proceedings of Union County Union Convention.

LA GRANDE, March 17, 1866.

The Union County Convention of Union County, Oregon, met pursuant to a call of the County Central Committee at La Grande on Saturday, March 17th, 1866. After duly organizing, the following resolutions were read and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we have an abiding faith in the capacity of man for self government and particularly in a people who have arrived at the standard of intelligence and morality attained by the people of the United States of America.

Resolved, That human life and human liberty and the education of the people are the highest objects of any good government. And before these the protection of property or capital against labor become "light as a feather plucked from the linnet's wing or the down that dances upon a summer's sunbeam."

Resolved, That we believe the institution of slavery to be a relic of barbarism and the offspring of human depravity. It is wrong socially, morally and politically, and we thank God that out of the many sufferings, sorrows and evils of the late civil strife, he has in the infinite [illegible] of his goodness and wisdom brought deliverance to the slave, and eradicated from our country and from our organic laws that oppressive and hellish institution which degraded us in the eyes of all civilized nations, retarded our progress in wealth and material improvements, debased our people and involved us in the horrid atrocities of a barbarous war.

Resolved, That we hail with joy the return of peace and are determined that the question of reconstruction shall be so adjusted that the peace we have conquered with the best blood and the treasure of the land shall not be a syren song to be changed at pleasure, but a peace lasting and eternal as the hills. To our misguided brethren North and South, who have been seduced from their loyalty and love of country by the devilish schemes, political tricks and damnable lies of their leaders, and now see and acknowledge the error of their way, we extend the right hand of fellowship and brotherly love. But for Jeff Davis, John C. Breckinridge and all others of their sort we shall cherish and cultivate no other feelings than those of hatred and contempt while we live, and when we cease to hate them living we will hand their names down to our children through the chronicals of a just and impartial history in that catalogue of infamous bad men, among which the names of Judas Iscariot, Cataline and Benedict Arnold have heretofore shown conspicuous.

Resolved, That we are in favor of securing to the freedmen all the civil rights contained in the amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America. While we are for ourselves opposed to social equality with the negro or African, we regard the admixture of the two races, with or without marriage, as a crime against nature and are in favor of legislating to make it a penal offence punishable by imprisonment in the Penitentiary for a term of years.

Resolved, That we have entire faith in the ability and integrity of the Union majority in Congress and fully endorse their recent action on the question of reconstruction, and give all praise to our faithful Senator, George H. Williams, for placing himself on the progressive side in that contest. We yet express a hope that the President, Andrew Johnson, whom we have looked up to as a patriot and a statesman, will yet stand firm in support of the Union and the principles of freedom, yet we think he is wrong in urging Congress to admit to seats in Congress representatives whose hands are red with the blood of Union soldiers, and who cannot take the oath of allegiance without committing the crime of perjury. As soon as representatives, who have never, in a high position, fought against the government, are elected from any State, we are in favor of Congress admitting them and restoring the State to an equality with all the States in the Union.

Resolved, That we are in favor of nominating a full ticket in County and State of good, honest, capable men, and none other, and of supporting them in one solid phalanx.

After which, the following gentlemen were elected delegates to the State Convention to be held at Corvallis: M. Baker, Hon. Jas. W. Pyle, D. C. Mollercher, C. Abernly and W. Kherrich.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot for county officers, with the following result: For Representative, Wm. Ream; County Judge, J. P. Aigelsinger; County Clerk, E. D. Brenton; Sheriff, H. L. [illegible]; Treasurer, D. S. Kinney; Superintendent of Common Schools, R. H. Mallory; Assessor, John H. Kellogg; Coroner, Dr. R. M. Baker; Commissioners, Wm. Settle and Wm. Shaw; after which the Convention adjourned sine die.

The Dayton Fossils.

Permit me, Mr. Editor, to call added attention to those fossil bones which you noticed a few days since.

Cannot the people of Portland, who take a permanent interest in her public spirit, be induced to make some arrangement with General Palmer by which those fossils may be kept in Oregon?

Portland or Salem certainly ought to keep them for the instruction of our own young people. In either place these fossils might be made the beginning of a State collection. Cannot your library association purchase them and let the cabinet begin at once in their rooms?

I would offer the following reasons to dissuade General Palmer from sending those fossils away from our State:

1. The colleges and museums of the East have no such need of them that we have.

They have whole skeletons and part skeletons in several of the Eastern cities. The Smithsonian Institute has specimens from many parts of the country.

Oregon needs her own fossils for the instruction of her own youth. Our young men ought not to be compelled to go to some Eastern city to learn what a tooth or tusk or a bone of a Mastodon is.

2. The scientific world will learn of and publish the fact of the discovery of these fossils without sending the specimens themselves away.

3. Nearly all of the older States have their own State collection. We need ours. If we ever get one, it will be unfortunate that those Dayton specimens are not among them.

Respectfully, THOMAS CONDON.

Dalles, March 22d, 1866.

A SHORT CATECHISM.—For the benefit of those Democrats in this State who have such mortal fear of "Negro equality," we furnish the following short catechism which may be used equally well on a street corner, in a Democratic club or a Democratic Convention. We suggest that the responses be pronounced with unction and that the deacons be instructed to insert the proper "amens."

Who said that all men are created equal? Thomas Jefferson.

Who gave the negro the right of suffrage in New York? The Democratic party.

Who presided over the Convention which gave this privilege to negroes? Martin Van Buren, a Democrat.

Who afterwards elected Martin Van Buren to the Presidency of the United States? The Democratic party.

Who married a negro woman, and by her had mulatto children? Richard M. Johnson, a good Democrat.

[A groan or two would sound well here.]

Who elected Richard M. Johnson Vice President of the United States? The Democratic party.

[Here the groaning should be increased a little and one or two "amens" would add to the effect.]

If President Van Buren had died and Richard M. Johnson had become President who would have become the Democratic mistress of the White House? This same negro woman.

[At this, the groans should be made general, uproarous and deafening. Every deacon should shout "amen" and the congregation should lift up their eyes and hands to Heaven. Let the catechism proceed.]

Who made the negro a citizen of the State of Maine? The Democratic party.

Who enacted a similar law in Massachusetts? The Democratic party.

Who gave the negro a right to vote in New Hampshire? The Democratic party.

Who permitted every colored person owning $250 in New York to become a voter? A General Assembly purely Democratic.

Who repealed the laws of Ohio which required negroes to give bond and security before settling in that State? The Democratic party.

Who made mulattoes legal voters in Ohio? A Democratic Supreme Court of which Reuben Wood was Chief Justice.

What became of Reuben Wood? The Democratic party elected him Governor three times and he is still a leader of the Democratic party.

Who helped to give free negroes the right to vote in Tennessee under her Constitution of 1796? General Jackson.

Was General Jackson a good Democrat? He generally passed as such.

Who, with the above facts and many others staring them in the face, are continually whining about negro suffrage and negro equality? The Democratic party.

After the Democracy have got bravely and nobly through with the above, won't they oblige us by answering, "Who is now making a dismal howl about negro equality?"

A NEW TELEGRAPH LINE.—We are permitted to make public a portion of the contents of a letter received yesterday by a gentleman of this city, from Nashville, Tennessee, and written by an agent of the United States Telegraph Company. The letter says:

A Pacific extension of our lines from San Antonio, Texas, is determined upon. * * * * We shall follow very nearly the line of the old Southern stage route, touching the military posts in Arizona, Fort Yuma, and San Diego, and shall build to San Francisco or buy out and rebuild the California State Company's line south of San Francisco, just as they shall choose. We will buy if they will sell, build if they won't.

Utah News.

The following items are from the Vedette of March 8th:

EXCITEMENT AMONG THE MORMONS.

Considerable excitement is manifested in the outside settlements of Utah over that portion of the recent telegraph news, announcing that the Committee on Territories asked the Secretary of War to order certain persons now in Utah to Washington, to testify upon the conduct of Mormon leaders, so far as regards their continued violation of the laws of the United States. A friend who arrived on yesterday from one of the outside settlements informed us that one man was so excited that he offered to change a horse for an old rusty carbine.

The Vedette has been selected by Secretary Seward as the official paper of the Government for Utah Territory. It will commence the publication of the Acts of Congress in a short time.

A NEW GOLD DISCOVERY.

The Rush Valley correspondent of the Vedette writes:

"Extensive lodes of gold bearing quartz, rich in gold, have recently been discovered in this mining district, and it has created an immense excitement in our usual quiet city. The miners here are all overjoyed at the prospects, and those who are most conversant with mining operations seem to be the most sanguine in the matter—they pronounce it richer ore than any they have heretofore seen taken from the mines of Montana, Idaho or Nevada. It is also expected that rich surface diggings can be found in this vicinity, in fact they have already been discovered—our worthy [illegible] has picked up several small pieces of gold from amongst the sand and gravel close to those quartz ledges. Whilst writing this article, parties are hunting for pans suitable to commence the washing or panning process. In order that credit may be accorded to whom it is due, I will here state that two of our 'boys in blue,' whilst out hunting for Government mules, did actually find one of Uncle Sam's huge pocket books imbedded in the earth, in its natural state. I deem it unnecessary to say anything in this correspondence concerning the extent and richness of our silver mines, which are acknowledged by all competent judges who have thus far visited them, to be the richest, as well as the most spacious silver [illegible] that have thus far been discovered on the [illegible] slope. The facilities for working these mines cannot be excelled anywhere, having an abundance of fuel and water in close proximity to them."

BROWNLOW'S DEFINITION OF A RADICAL.—The following is Governor Brownlow's definition of a Radical:

"A radical is one who, without any [illegible] is for the Union, and for putting down all [illegible] lions gotten up to destroy the Union, at any [illegible] of money and blood. If slavery gets in the way of restoring the Union, he is for wiping [illegible]. He is for keeping every man out of Congress who can't take the Congressional test oath, and holds that no man has a right to a seat in Congress who can't take that oath—who can't swear [illegible] never bore arms against the government [illegible] United States, who never held any office [illegible] civil office under the so-called Confederate [illegible] government, and who never voluntarily aided and abetted the cause of the late rebellion. [illegible] radical believes that no other class of men [illegible] to aspire to seats in Congress. They believe [illegible] the Congress of the United States ought [illegible] from the rebel States, before one of [illegible] admitted, full and satisfactory [illegible] another revolt, as well as of future good [illegible] and future loyalty. The Radicals believe [illegible] troops should be continued in the [illegible] every Southern State acquiesces in [illegible] the war, and the people learn to [illegible] selves. They believe, with President [illegible] that 'treason should be made odious [illegible] scious, intelligent traitors punished [illegible]. And with the Parson [illegible] further, [illegible] but five thousand loyal men in Tennessee [illegible] ought to govern the State,' while [illegible] should occupy the back seats." [illegible] ism, and the editors of this [illegible] are [illegible]

LOYALTY OF THE SOUTH.—The Copp[illegible] and the few conservatives are [illegible] lafy the loyal North that the Southern [illegible] mit to the results of the war, and the States [illegible] be safely restored to sovereignty. [illegible] mony to the contrary ought to be final on [illegible] point, and the following from the Knoxville [illegible] is quite significant.

Those who are laboring to get rebel [illegible] stored in the South, and to get rebels into [illegible] so as to control the State Governments, [illegible] all manner of tricks to show that the [illegible] and masses are thoroughly changed, satisfied with the results of the war, and determined to [illegible] law-abiding citizens and good Union men. [illegible] this end a number of hired letter-writers, for Northern conservative papers, paid out of the [illegible] crib, and dispersed throughout the South, getting up the news on one side of the question, and where they can learn nothing favorable, manufacture items, and write out long [illegible] abounding in exaggerated statements and downright falsehoods. Instance the reports of [illegible] so-called because of his aversion to truth. But if proof is wanting of the utterly unsubdued spirit of the rebels, and of their hatred of the Union, let the editorial columns of the rebel papers of the whole South speak. They reflect the sentiments and feelings of the Southern disloyalists; and as bitter as these papers are they are more mild—from motives of policy—than the masses are.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 28, 1866

Whence come their Hopes

The Democratic newspapers, for some months, have indulged in unwonted strains of exultation at what they term the certainty of a restoration of Democratic domination in the affairs of the Government. From what source such hopes spring is not clearly stated, and we doubt whether any of them can tell precisely how they have become possessed of the insane inspiration. It is an insult to the intelligence of the American people to ask them, in the face of the Democracy's record of the last few years, to restore to power the faction which has omitted no opportunity to aid the deadly enemies of the Government, and it is a still greater insult to the people's patriotism. It is downright impudence to tell the people that they are tired of their fealty to objects and principles for which they have so lately made sacrifices and exhibited endurance, unequaled in modern history; and that they are now, after having achieved an overwhelming and glorious victory over arch traitors and arch-treason, about to surrender themselves and their victory's fruits into the hands of a miserable faction which cannot boast any prouder record than that it did what it could to plunge the Government into the irretrievable ruin which the arch-traitors sought for it.

Do not these loud-mouthed braggarts remember how the patriotic people of the North, while contending with the armed conspirators of the Southern Confederacy, also met and foiled treason's allies, the Copperheads, at every point of their tortuous course? Have they forgotten so soon the confounding defeats they suffered, everywhere, and how the Democratic leaders were, one after another, buried so deeply under their own infamy that no power on earth can ever bring them again to the surface? Where are your Buchanans, Pierces, Woods and Seymours? Gone down to a notoriety of shame that must cleave to them until the world shall forget to execrate such [illegible] as an Arnold and a Judas Iscariot. Like leaders, like followers, and the latter cannot escape the infamy they invoked when they deliberately elected to support the fortunes and wicked schemes of traitors. That the Democratic party of the North was in close alliance with the leaders of the rebellion, is not only firmly established in the deliberate judgment of all loyal men, but is backed by the testimony of the rebel leaders themselves. That they are to-day what they were during the rebellion, is established by their own declarations of unchangeableness. No such declarations, however, are necessary to convince the world of their unaltered hatred of the Government—it is, in every word and deed, so evident as to forestall the necessity of proof. And yet, the men who have been time and again put down at the polls, and loaded with the just execrations of the loyal masses, have the marvelous effrontery to tell the people that they, the people, have become tired of putting down traitors; that they have suddenly become enamored of the goddess of treason and desire nothing more than to fall into her polluting embraces! What is this but a most foul slander upon American patriotism, and will be so pronounced again and again as often as the loyal people have occasion to express their verdict at the polls. New Hampshire, the other day, so pronounced it, with a majority of more than double that by which her verdict on the [illegible] was rendered in 1864. [illegible] have not even braved the people's indignation, by nominating a candidate for Go[illegible]

Who believes that the loyal men of Oregon have any less hatred of treason's allies than two years ago? Who among them has become convinced of the conversion to loyalty of the men who then were pronounced unfit to hold the offices of a loyal people? They have not become so convinced, nor has any act of the Democracy, to loyalty been given, nor has that party exhibited any symptoms of unfaithfulness to the Jeff. Davises, Mrs. Surratts and Wilkes Booths of the late Confederacy. Whence come the hopes, then, of the Democracy, of success in the approaching election? [illegible] they have no such hopes and are merely [illegible] to keep their courage up, or they count upon divisions in the Union party upon minor or local considerations, by virtue of which they may steal into office, on the [illegible] of a minority vote of the people. There is and can be no other way for them to win. In this way they have a possible chance. Will Union men permit a Copperhead victory to be gained through their dissension? Will they throw away so dearly and well [illegible] the victory [illegible] of the last five years' struggle. We cannot and will not believe it.

GENUINE CHIVALRY.—It is worthy of note, that when the rebel General Lee was before the Reconstruction Committee at Washington, he was asked whether he had ever taken the Confederate oath of allegiance. In reply he stated that he had not, and that he had [illegible] refrained from doing so. Here is an exhibition of chivalry for the [illegible] to dwell rapturously upon. Here is a man [illegible] of the country and sworn to defend the Government, who deserts it in its hour of deadly peril, takes command of the rebel soldiery, and forces Virginia out of the Union; but all the while doubting the final success of the rebellion, though devoting all his [illegible] to the cause, he purposely avoids taking the oath of allegiance, so that in the event of disaster and failure he might shield himself from just punishment under the plea that he had always retained an [illegible] for the Union, and that he had not [illegible] the wrong of taking an oath to support the [illegible]. This conduct is of a piece with Semmes' when he cried out lustily as his pirate craft was going down: "Save me, I'm the Captain!" The most criminal and dishonorable of all traitors are those of the type of R. E. Lee and A. H. Stephens—men who pretended to love their country, but who did more than any other class in the endeavor to destroy it.

> The inferior, being naturally inferior, subsists to the superior, and though there may be many minor features of this relation to be [illegible] as society advances, this so-called slavery was not only based on fixed and everlasting truth, but it was and is the most natural, [illegible] and advanced social condition in Christendom.—N. Y. Day Book.

The Democrat who wrote the above panegyric on the lately crushed system of human slavery, would probably acquire a very different opinion of the "beneficent" features of the institution if, for about three days, he were a cotton plantation nigger, and one of the former happy fellows who was lately outraged by being set at liberty, could be his master. He could probably see the humanity of the thing in a different light, but after all we are inclined to think his "social condition" would be advanced. He would at least be elevated from a brute to a human being.

ANOTHER ACCESSION.—The moment a man gets drunk and makes a maudlin speech, the Democracy claim him as an "accession." Acting Governor Meagher of Montana, who recently made the drunkenest speech we have lately read, is the last accession. The speech had such unmistakably Democratic earmarks that he was instantly gobbled by the Democracy.

INSANE.—The editor of the Review, speaking of the prospects of the traitor ticket in Marion, says, "There is even a hope in the minds of those who had but lately given her over to the blacks, of carrying the county." If that isn't a hopeless case of lunacy, we never heard of one.

QUERY.—Was the last issue of the Herald on "Monday, March 27," or on "Tuesday, March 28"? We want to know, for we desire to quote from it, and don't want to get our dates mixed up.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 26.

Letter from the Secretary of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The following letter was sent to-day by the Secretary of the Treasury to the chairman of the ways and means committee, dated Treasury Department, March 23d:

SIR—Your favor of the 22d has been received, transmitting the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committee address a communication to the Secretary of the Treasury stating that the committee has [illegible] of its members that the Secretary [illegible] with [illegible] legislation [illegible] with power [illegible] the policy announced in his annual report, and to request the Secretary to inform the committee [illegible] such is his opinion.

In reply I have to say that I must have failed to make my views clear to the committee [illegible]. I did not say that the Secretary, without legislation, is sufficiently armed with power [illegible], but I did intend to say that if it should be found necessary to modify in any important particular the provisions of the bill reported by the committee, I should prefer that it would not become a law. It would be, in my judgment, a national calamity if Congress should fail to grant additional powers to the Secretary, for it will be very difficult if not impossible to fund the interest bearing notes [illegible] at present rates. But I did not think that the committee or myself should become responsible in any way for the law that is likely to fail in realizing that object. I regard it a matter of the greatest importance that the power of the Secretary should [illegible]. If the Secretary should be prohibited from selling bonds below par, it would be easy, as the market in the process of funding must be liberally supplied, for the enemies of the Government to form successful combinations for keeping the bonds at such a price as would prevent negotiation of them. On the other hand if the authority of the Secretary in this respect is not limited such combinations would not likely be formed. In my opinion the best way of keeping the bonds at a premium will be to leave the Secretary unrestricted in their sale. In regard to the other important features of the bill regarding authority to withdraw notes, I have to reply to the remark that it is of vast importance to the business of the country, the welfare of the people and the credit of the nation, that such a financial policy should be adopted by this Congress as will prepare the way for specie payment. Whether this is brought about will depend on the condition of the national industry. The relations between the United States and foreign nations make it desirable that specie payment be restored if it can be made by increasing industry, and the proper adjustment of trade with Europe. The indications are all now in the right direction, and if they shall be adjusted by judicious legislation, I shall be hopeful that the currency of the country may be brought up to a specie standard without a larger reduction of it. The apprehension that if power be given to the Secretary to retire United States notes, the circulation of the country will be ruinously contracted, is without substantial foundation.

If no reliance can be placed upon the discretion and carefulness of the Secretary, the very condition of the business of the country will prevent such reduction as will make either a tight market or depress business. Authority to reduce the currency will give every facility to prevent necessity for reduction. The battle will be more than half fought when the Government shall adopt a healthy financial policy.

(Signed) HUGH McCULLOUGH

The House bill passed yesterday appropriating $70,000 to reimburse Pennsylvania for the State troops employed in 1863 to repel Lee's invasion.

Congressional.

The House judiciary committee agreed to report a constitutional amendment preventing any persons who have ever held office under the so-called Confederate Government from holding office under this Government.

It is now certain that no action will be taken by Congress, amending the law concerning the income tax, in season to affect the next assessment, that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has commenced the preparation of blank instructions under existing laws. Assessors and assistants will be instructed to prepare immediately for assessment. Henry S Foote publishes a card denying any authorship in Senator Stewart's resolutions. He says "I warmly approve of them and was called upon by the author in regard to the probability of the South accepting them." Mr Foote promises a forthcoming letter in support of the resolutions.

The Campaign in Connecticut.

CHICAGO, March 23.—The Connecticut political campaign attracts considerable interest. Both the rival candidates for Governor, Hawley, (Republican) and English (Democrat) have within a week, had interviews with President Johnson, each coming away perfectly sure of the Presidential support, while the President declined any public declaration one way or the other. Mr English (Democrat) in a published letter says: "Loyally and cordially I approve the President's restoration policy, patriotic sentiments and statesman like principles so ably set forth in his veto of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill and confirmed in his speech to his fellow-citizens on the birth-day of Washington." General Hawley, (Republican,) says in the Hartford Press, which he edits, that the Freedmen's Bureau Bill ought to have passed by a two third vote over the veto, and that he read with profound regret the fact that Secretary Welles takes sides, and it is significant when it is [illegible] that the Hartford Press was established as his organ twelve years ago and that the most intimate personal and political relations have always existed between [illegible] and Gov. Hawley.

Forney writes to the Philadelphia Press saying, make a note of it, that with all the clamor against it, the great issue of the present day is upon the policy of the President to restore representation in Congress to the States in which the rebellion lately existed.

Edward S. Cleveland, Postmaster at Hartford, has declared in favor of the election of Mr English, and several other Connecticut Republicans of lesser note have gone the same way.

The National Intelligencer of the 20th says: "We are gratified to learn that the prospects of the election of Mr English are encouraging. While here he has had several cordial and pleasant interviews with the President, who we have every reason to believe would be highly pleased to hear of his success on the first Monday of April. The same paper denies by authority that Secretary Welles has written a letter announcing his desire that General Hawley should be elected, and says the sound and practical views of Mr Welles are that old issues have passed away with the periods which saw their rise, agitation and fall, and that what are called radicals, who are falsely charged with delaying the reconstruction of the Union and with contributing to the languor and uncertainty in business circles, none of the great interests have yet demonstrated in favor of the admission of the rebel States or the admission of their Representatives and Senators on President Johnson's plan. We have no delegations from Wall Street, State Street or Third Street in support of this demand. We hear nothing whatever from manufacturing and agricultural branches of the West and Northwest, which is simply because the millions who have invested in Government securities, cannot see what safety is to come to [illegible], industry, capital and finance generally by introducing elements into the national councils, who, without [illegible] there, are without responsibility and would have no interest whatever in [illegible] the payment of the interest and principal of the National debt. Now we are in the very front of [illegible] this point.

Arrival of the Arizona—Adjournment of the Louisiana Legislature.

NEW YORK, March 24th.—The steamer Arizona has arrived from Aspinwall, March 15th, with the California mails and treasure of March 1st.

NEW ORLEANS, March 23d.—The Legislature adjourned at midnight. It has passed one hundred and twenty three important bills.

The Great Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 24th.—Pike's Opera House is entirely in ruins. The Enquirer office is also destroyed. The fire spread across Baker street to the Adams Express stables, and several buildings on 3d street. The Express Company saved their valuable packages, but everything else was lost. The total loss will reach $2,000,000; Pike's loss being $10,000, on which he had but a trifling insurance. It is supposed the fire was caused by an explosion of gas.

Appointments in the Regular Army.

Among the Second Lieutenants appointed in the regular army from the volunteer service are the following: Lieut Col Clarence Bennett, of 1st Cal Cav, Second Lieut 6th U S. Cav; Maj Alfred Morton, 7th Cal Vols, Second Lieut 9th U. S. Inf'y; Maj Henry M Benson 4th Cal Vols, Second Lieut 18th Inf'y; Capt Geo F Price, 2d Cal Cav, Second Lieut 5th U S Cav; Capt Alex B Mackinzie, 6th Cal. Vols, Second Lieut 12th Inf'y; Capt. James H Stewart 2d Cav. Vols, Second Lieut 5th Inf'y; John R Rosenburg, Co. 1, 2d Cal Vols. Second Lieut 4th Inf'y; Daniel W Applegate 1st Oregon, Second Lieut 12th Inf'y; Capt Knox, 1st Washington Territory Vols, Second Lieut 12th Inf'y.

Heavy Robbery in New York—The Lord Robbery.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Last evening the residence of John P. Moore, No. 100 Madison Avenue, was robbed of a tin box containing $100,000 in United States securities. A reward of $5,000 is offered.

Nothing further has been divulged about the robbery of $1,500,000 from Lord's office, but mysterious advertisements lead to the belief that negotiations have been opened for compromise with the successful thief.

The Postmaster of Hartford, Conn, tendered his resignation, which the President refused to accept.

Precautions Against Cholera.

In pursuance of general instructions from the headquarters of the army, officers in command of military departments were established quarantines at Southern ports, and suitable vessels for guard ships are being stationed along the coast as security against the introduction of cholera.

NEW YORK, March 24.—In the U S District Court yesterday Judge Betts pronounced an elaborate judgment, in which he declares that the application of the owners of the steamship Meteor for bonding that vessel should be refused, out of a sense of obligation to enforce neutrality. It will be remembered that the Meteor was seized by order of the Government on information that she was intended to be used as a Chilean privateer. Pending the final decision the owners wanted to give bonds for the value of the vessel and release her from further detention.

A Flutter in Wall Street.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Commercial Advertiser says the passage of the Loan bill by the House has produced a slight fluctuation in the market. The adoption of the clause authorizing a foreign loan took Wall street by surprise, and the bill is regarded as granting the Secretary substantially all the power he wanted. The action of the House would produce a more marked effect were it certain the bill would pass the Senate in its present form. There is doubt if the Senate will not insist on curtailing the Secretary's power.

Death of Adjt. Gen. Williams.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Seth Williams, the well known Adjt Gen of the Army of the Potomac, died at the residence of his sister in this city last night. Inflammation of the brain.

Rumored Continuance of the Session of Congress.

CINCINNATI, March 24.—The Commercial gives prominence to a statement that leading members of Congress have agreed to continue in session till the 1st of March, and will take a recess from time to time as occasion may require, leaving a few members on hand to keep up the formality.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The House went into the Committee of the Whole for general debate. The attendance was small. The proceedings were not important.

The President's veto of the civil rights bill will probably be sent to the Senate on Monday, and it is anticipated with much interest. Various speculations are afloat regarding the probabilities of the message, and while nothing is certainly known it seems to be believed the President will reiterate the argument of the other veto message against legislation for the South while those States are unrepresented. He will avail himself of this occasion to further define his policy.

The President yesterday expressed his disapprobation of Senator Stewart's proposition providing for universal amnesty on condition that the States shall grant universal suffrage.

In preparing the loan bill to telegraph last night, [illegible] was [illegible] clause which had been stricken out. The following should have been omitted: [illegible] which may be disposed of anywhere in the United States may be made payable, both principal and interest in [illegible] in the currency of the country in which they are made payable, but at no higher rate of interest exceeding five per cent. This clause is not in the bill as it passed.

Revenue Matters.

WASHINGTON, March 2[illegible].—The receipts of Internal revenue during the week were $8,400,64[illegible], and since the 1st of January, $63,750,00[illegible]. Total National Bank circulation is $20,281,[illegible] of which eleven hundred thousand dollars were issued last week.

The Forthcoming Veto Message.

The National Intelligencer which has [illegible] to be regarded as the President's organ [illegible] yesterday on the civil rights bill, indicating the probable points of the message. It says this is a bill to abolish the States of the Union [illegible] two [illegible] are required: first, that doubtful Federal powers should be used; second, that the statute should be efficiently executed.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Among the Senate amendments to the deficiency appropriation bill, not concurred in by the House, and referred to the committee of conference, are several appropriating an aggregate of about $50,000 for expenses of Government commissioners and engineers appointed to survey the various sections of the Pacific Railroad and for the attendance of same at Washington last January, for the purpose of fixing uniform standard of railroads. Stevens contended that the expense should be paid by the companies, it being a necessary part of the construction expense, before receiving Government aid. Wilson of Iowa held the same opinion, but said the original act did not explicitly require companies to pay engineers and therefore Government is bound in good faith to pay them. Higby of California said the companies had nothing to do with the employment of these men, did not ask their services and could get along without them.

Washburn of Illinois called attention to a claim for mileage of said Commissioners from San Francisco to Washington and back $1,375 60. He protested against voting away the people's money in this way. The House also non concurred in the Senate amendment adding $1400 to the salary of the Treasurer of San Francisco mint for services as assistant Treasurer of the United States.

Democratic Convention at Milwaukie, Wisconsin.

CHICAGO, March 2[illegible].—The Democratic city Convention of Milwaukie, nominated Mayor Talmadge for re-election and declared its unqualified approval of the President's policy and endorsed the patriotic course of Senator Doolittle.

General Palmer Resigns.

General Palmer, commanding Department of Kentucky has tendered his resignation, but it is not accepted yet.

Suits against Army Officers.

During the debate in Congress the other day on the bill to protect army officers against vexatious suits for damages in Southern States, it was stated that 3,500 such suits had been commenced in Kentucky alone.

New Hampshire Election Returns.

Returns from all but 7 townships in New Hampshire, show a majority for Union candidate for Governor of 68 against 42.

A Misunderstanding between the United States and Great Britain.

CHICAGO, March 25th.—It is rumored that a formal misunderstanding exists between the English Government and the American Embassy in London, relative to the imprisonment of the several persons charged with Fenianism, who assert their claims to be American citizens and demand to be either liberated or brought to trial. The misunderstanding has been referred to Washington for solution and may prove embarrassing.

Senators Foote and Dixon are both better, but no hopes are entertained of the permanent recovery of either.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26th.—Petitions are being circulated in all parts of the city, asking Gov. Low to veto the bill expected to pass the Legislature increasing the fare on our city railroads.

A very smart shock of an earthquake visited the city at 12:15 P. M. to-day. It was the most vivid reminder of the October shake we have had since that date and sent quite a number of citizens into the street.

The funeral of Chas. Peasley and Benj. W. Dallow took place yesterday afternoon.

Hon. Anson Burlingame U. S. Minister to China, and Hon. R. Van Valkenburg Minister to Japan, who arrived in this city by the last steamer from Panama, will spend a few weeks in California before proceeding to their destination.

Money Matters.

The market decline in gold to-day in New York is a prominent theme in financial and commercial circles. The price vibrated between 125¾ and 126¼, at which price it appears to have closed. The decline is generally attributed to the passage of the loan bill in the lower House of Congress. Should the bill pass the Senate, further decline is anticipated. Exchange in New York continues depressed. Banker's bills are quoted (24th inst.) 107 and 107½; legal tenders here, 79½ and 80c.

Mining Share Market.

The stock market continues buoyant. Ophir advanced $32 00; Savage, $50 00; Crown Point, $25; Empire Mill and Yellow Jacket each, $15 00; Bullion, $14 00; Chollar Potosi, $5 00; Confidence $2 00 and Exchequer, $1. Money market remains quite easy.

Produce Market.

Butter—Sales of 60 firkins Eastern at 42½c for prime New York. Fruit—Sales of Malaga raisins ex Ephyr, continue to sell current at $4 15. Oil—Petroleum rules steady; 500 cases Devoe's sold at 75c, 60 days. Rice—The Jacobar's cargo has turned out in good condition, and is held at 9½c. Salt—The cargo of Carmen Island ex J B Ligat sold prior to arrival at $13 ⅌ ton. The Russian bark Hercules, 640 tons, has been chartered for Melbourne with breadstuffs.

Flour—Market rules dull, and prices favor the buyer. Standard brands in sks are selling at $6 25@$6 50 per bbl for superfine and $6 50@$6 75 for extra. Wheat—Is without change. Sales include 156 sks good milling at $1 90@$2 25 do bakers' extra $2 00 per 100 lbs. Barley—Market inactive, and in absence of sales of moment prices are nominal. Oats—Sales 500 sks at $1 75@$1 95 per 100 lbs the inside price for 300 sks. Oregon potatoes are dull at 90c@$1 10 per 100 lbs as extremes.

Shipping News.

Arrived, March 26.—Steamer Oregon, 12 days from Port Isabel. Steamer Pacific, 5 days from Columbia river. Brig Franklin Adams, 30 days from Carmen Island, salt to J C White. THE PORTLAND LIBRARY ROOMS.—There is really no more attractive place in the city [illegible] for a more profitable investment of a few hours daily in the way of a little leisure, than the rooms of the [illegible] Library Association on First street. During the past two [illegible] many fine donations have been tendered the as[illegible] one of which by Mr Sutton is alluded to in the [illegible] Oregon appearing on March 18th in the Bulletin from which we extract: "In the [illegible] Library [illegible] an old engraving made at Cheapside, London [illegible] 7, 1760 and published according to Act of [illegible] by one F Bordell. The engraving is a copy [illegible] painting by Van Harp in the collection of the celebrated Earl of Bute the tutor and Prime Minister of George III, and the public patron of the Scotch in England. The scene is a Flemish Collation and the composition of the picture includes 17 persons—burgomasters, gallants, fat dames, lusty lasses, children in arms and [illegible] and women. The guests sit round the [illegible] some smoking clay pipes, and others [illegible] flagons of wine. Hats and gloves lie upon the [illegible] the cat licks a discarded or neglected dish, the [illegible] tosses fruit from the head of the stairway [illegible] the uplifted petticoat of the serving-woman—the [illegible] while stamping her puling infant with spoon [illegible] is familiarly caressed by a fat Fleming in [illegible] who sits beside her, and slashing roysterer [illegible] for the lips or waist of a heavy built [illegible] who stands [illegible] between them. The whole scene [illegible] is humanity in the boorish and sensual aspects. It needs only to be looked upon to appreciate the truth of the following verses, by Thorndyke, upon the character [illegible] of early Dutch Protestant art:

Never thoughtful, wise or minted,
This is how the Dutchman painted,
Glossy satin, all a-shine,
[illegible] silk as bright as wine
[illegible] a [illegible] rascal, cap awry
[illegible] flagon to his eye,
Every word a curse or lie
[illegible] and Zealand dances
Breaking ships and rearing prances
Troopers with red drums and lance,
[illegible] robed in purple cloak,
[illegible] who drink and smoke,
[illegible] what boor's head is broke,
Ladies trim in scarlet bodice,
[illegible] each one a goddess,
[illegible] at an ape—which odd is.
[illegible] steeple hats, who loan
[illegible] door-hatch, vine leaved green,
[illegible] round the window screen,
[illegible] boors who strum a lute,
[illegible] their feasts to a flute,
[illegible] scarlet each man's suit.
[illegible] a fair,
[illegible] make men stare;
[illegible] fights, with tugging hair.
[illegible] in silver gray,
[illegible] that way,
[illegible] the skittle-players fray
[illegible] groups of dappled kine,
[illegible] or dark as wine;
[illegible] in a line.
[illegible] candle 'mid sunny grass,
[illegible] the barges drag and pass,
[illegible] by the milking lass.
[illegible]
Glossy satin a-rolling shine;
[illegible] silk, as bright as wine;
Never thoughtful, wise or minted—
This is how the Dutchman painted.

[illegible] to the memory of the jolly Van [illegible] for the liberty I have taken with his priceless [illegible] the Right Honorable the Earl of Bute's [illegible] take my leave of the famous Flemish [illegible] that if you would only see it [illegible] to the Portland Library, and [illegible] upon the north wall of the great East [illegible] the chess players now do congregate, and [illegible] as I have said, and Thorndyke [illegible]

DEATH OF HON. C. N. HUMISTON.—The following telegram [illegible] this city at 12 o'clock yesterday:

San Francisco, March 27th, 1866.

[illegible] Berry: Sir—Your friend and my dear [illegible] died this morning at 9 o'clock in [illegible] Carson.

[illegible] struck a deep thrill to the hearts of [illegible] of our citizens, who regret that the [illegible] Mr C N Humiston is no more [illegible] it is that "In the midst of life we [illegible]" It is scarcely two months since Mr Humiston [illegible] the bosom of his [illegible] wife. Full of [illegible] entered largely upon [illegible] of real estate in this city, purchased [illegible] for a life of comfort [illegible] His new residence, on the corner of Salmon [illegible] The timbers for a [illegible] on the block opposite the old Court [illegible] street, are lying as they were delivered [illegible] contract was let. [illegible] after Mr [illegible] so suddenly and badly ill. Work was also [illegible] at the foot [illegible] taken by him. When he left [illegible] of soon returning but [illegible] and God disposes." Since 1859 [illegible] has been identified with the interests of [illegible] and this city, and his death will truly be [illegible] His only relatives on this coast are those [illegible] so recently been connected, but he has [illegible] in the East, with all of whom we [illegible]

[illegible]—The [illegible] to [illegible] met at the Court House in [illegible] by electing Judge Strong President, [illegible] and John Switzler, Vice Presidents, [illegible] and Lafayette Lane, Secretaries. The [illegible] to the State Convention [illegible] to meet in this city on Thursday, April 5th: [illegible] Stout, L. F. Grover, Wm Strong, [illegible] A. P. Dennison, J. C. Ainsworth, J. H [illegible] Wm. [illegible] L. Balgain. On [illegible] of the county ticket was postponed until [illegible] to which time the County Convention agreed to [illegible] The committee on platform reported a set of [illegible] were spiked down with applause, but we [illegible] to get a copy of them. A county committee, [illegible] was appointed, consisting of the following named gentlemen: Wm McMillen, [illegible] Sample, J. Switzler, D Freeland, and [illegible] The President of the meeting then thanked [illegible] the honors conferred upon him by selecting [illegible] over their deliberations, and the Convention [illegible] on Monday, May 7th, at the [illegible] o'clock.

[illegible] papers of up country towns are [illegible] price of house dash, and showing which [illegible] out the [illegible] capital. Inkintown houses [illegible] if we are allowed to judge [illegible] yesterday, opposite [illegible] where (to use the phrase of the salesman) [illegible] sent for $9 cash. It was [illegible] some time before a bid was [illegible] the auctioneer [illegible] $100 down to two dollars and fifty cents. At last [illegible] plucked up courage and [illegible] bid a [illegible] was very slow, until a rider [illegible] worth, [illegible] two [illegible] dollars, and the [illegible] was heard to say: "Such a horse as that [illegible] if you are crazy!" after which [illegible] the ani[illegible] on which it [illegible] the [illegible] pronounced the story.

[illegible]—The steamship Sierra [illegible] Mexican Company's [illegible] clears this morning, takes a [illegible] of 1,129 boxes of apples 20 cases [illegible] cases of tobacco.) Treasure to the [illegible] was shipped by parties as follows:

[illegible] & Co.	$40 000
[illegible]	27 500
[illegible]	12,000
[illegible]	$79 500

[illegible]—Two [illegible] men, named Frank Hill [illegible] Cahn, yesterday [illegible] to the river, at the foot of Stark street, in a [illegible] drawn by a fine span of [illegible] to the [illegible] House, for the purpose of [illegible] the team, and driving into the stream [illegible] their calculation [illegible] as the river had risen considerably, and in a short time found themselves over the [illegible] bank. The horses swam some distance and the [illegible] being light came out safely, but the [illegible] were watered badly and had cause to congratulate themselves that the matter was no worse.

TARGET EXCURSION.—The Zouave Cadets under command of Capt. Williams, will visit Ross Island this morning by the steamer Senator, returning in the afternoon—for the [illegible] of practicing target exercise. They will be accompanied by a drum corps, and a pleasant time is expected. The Cadets are pretty thoroughly drilled, and [illegible] have been some further advanced had they their [illegible] but as it is will no doubt make a creditable appearance. They are not sufficiently provided to take guns for [illegible] owing to the limited supply.

[illegible]—Dr. Whiteaker left yesterday for Fort [illegible] to [illegible] the duties of Post Physician. The [illegible] was employed with the First Washington Infantry, [illegible] during its organization. After the discharge of that [illegible] he was appointed assistant physician in the [illegible] Oregon Infantry, and now is engaged as above [illegible] appreciated and wherever he goes he [illegible] received, as but few persons are more [illegible] known than he is.

PUBLIC MEETING.—A large number of the regular citizens of Portland—interested in trade—irrespective of party, and all non-residents sojourning at the hotels [illegible] and private boarding houses of the city, are [illegible] invited to attend at 10 o'clock this morning [illegible] Auction and Commission House, corner of Front and Oak streets, to listen to a short speech by Mr A B [illegible] on the subject of the "condition and barter of [illegible]" It is his regular sale day.

THE SCHOONER ALFRED CROSBY.—Capt Ketchum arrived [illegible] from Victoria last night, having disp[illegible] of the Alfred Crosby at Port Townsend to Dr O'Brien. The vessel is on the way to this port, however, with a cargo, and may be expected soon. Capt. Ketchum informs us that the Victoria people are anxious to form a [illegible] line of traffic with this place, and are re-fitting the Fidelater as speedily as possible for that purpose.

CABLE LAID.—The new submarine telegraph cable, connecting Portland with the east side, was successfully laid [illegible] by Dr Plummer, assisted by Wm. Skinner and employees of the company. We may look for uninterrupted communication with points north in future [illegible] at least so far as this link is able to supply the deficiency.

"OWYHEE."—The district of "Owyhee," says the Humboldt Register, was so christened by a couple of Hawaiians, who were in the employ of the Hudson Bay Company and lived there, trading with the neighboring [illegible] tribes. They little thought then that the section [illegible] become as a gold mining region, and the [illegible] is likely to be [illegible] perpetuated there, but it is not [illegible] Owyhee will do.

State Items

Messrs Drake & Moores, of the Salem Foundry, have purchased the exclusive right to manufacture and sell Woodward's Wheat Cleaning Machine, in the State of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. J F Beals, of Oregon City, has the right for Utah Territory.

A little child of John Brown of Salem was drowned on Sunday in the Woolen Manufacturing Company's ditch, near the Brewery.

The Walla Walla Statesman says private news from Washington has been received to the effect that the annexation scheme joining that county to Oregon, is likely to meet the approval of Congress.

The people of Walla Walla have just finished a commodious school house costing something over $2,000.

The Mountaineer is under the editorial charge of Mr Henry Catley during the absence of Mr Halloran. Mr Catley is late Quartermaster of the First Oregon Infantry.

The man Herring who shot Kellogg at the Snake River Ferry, on account of a quarrel about a squaw has thus far escaped the officers who are in search of him.

The Circuit Court for Linn county is in session this week. There are twenty-six cases on the docket. Thomas Smith is to be tried on the charge of killing his brother and sister in law.

The report of the School Superintendent of Linn county, states the number of school houses in the county at fifty one of an average value of $234. The academy building at Lebanon is valued at $4 000 and the one at Harrisburg at $3 000. There are a few neat and comfortable school houses valued at from $700 to $900, the others are mostly indifferent frame or log cabins.

We to day received through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, a copy of the Idaho Statesman of November 21, 1865. It had been on the way one hundred and twenty five days, being at the rate of 3.52 miles per day, or about as far as a dull pedestrian could walk in an hour. Who will undertake to say this is not an age of progress.

Another sale of stock of the Santiam Gold and Silver Mining Company is announced to take place at Salem, April 26th, for non payment of assessments.

Washington Territory Items.

The Vancouver Register says the O. S. N. Co has applied to the U. S. District Court now in session there for an injunction restraining the sheriff of Clark County, W. T., from collecting the taxes assessed against the property at the Cascades. The Cascade Railroad Co have sued out a like instrument against the Middle Cascade Portage Co., to restrain them from completing their railroad, alleging that it interferes with the rights of the former company.

Mr Marble has put in operation a new flouring mill on Salmon creek, six miles north of Vancouver.

L. Vertun, for carrying on the business of auctioneer without license, was fined $10, and costs of action, in the District Court at Vancouver last week.

THE ORACLES HAVE SPOKEN.—The Cops held a County Convention in this city yesterday, and among other things resolved in favor of the President some, and against Congress much, denounced the black abolitionists vehemently, and asserted emphatically that this is a white man's Government. The talkingers called persuasively for mourners to come down at the Democratic stool of repentance and generously offered them a face and eyes full of Democratic dirt. It is presumed that Congress, when it learns through the Herald of these movements of vast portent, will at once adjourn in uncontrollable panic and leave the work of reconstruction to the real friends of the Union, who have made such gigantic struggles to save it—by strangulation. The Columbia county Jefferson Davis resolution was not adopted—we suppose, by "mistake." The nomination of county candidates were not made, it being thought best to wait and see whether there would be any considerable split in the Union party.

The Herald complains of the use by Union men, of pet names significant of their detestation of the Democracy. It dont like the terms "Copperhead," "Secessionist," "Traitor," "Snake," etc. Well, there is really no necessity for using such opprobrious epithets—if, after this anybody wants to call another a despicably mean name let him call him "Democrat." If that does not suggest opprobrium enough he may rest assured he can never do the subject justice.

REMEDY FOR CATTLE POISON.—A farmer of Washington Territory says, through the Register, that an effectual remedy for cases of cattle poison from eating early spring vegetation, is a tablespoonful of quick lime for a grown animal, and less in proportion to the age, to be repeated in twenty four hours where the first dose proves insufficient.

Our principles are blazoned forth to the world in such a [illegible] that there can be no mistake as to what we [illegible]—Herald.

Loyal voters are not likely to "mistake" your principles after the practical exhibition of them which the Southern Confederacy furnished. Don't be at all alarmed about being mistaken for what you are not.

AN APT SIMILE.—M. Mudie, the author of some popular work on "The Seasons," was originally a teacher in Dundee. He happened to be one of a tea party at the house of the Rev. Dr M ———. The Doctor was reputed for the suavity of his manners, and his special politeness toward the fair sex. Handing a dish of honey to one of the ladies, he said, in his wonted manner: "Do take a little honey, Miss ————, 'tis so sweet—so like yourself."

Mr. Mudie could not restrain his native tendency to humor, so, handing the butter dish to the host, he exclaimed: "Do take a little butter Doctor, 'tis so soft—so like yourself."

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.—They are the primary cause of nearly all [illegible]. One table spoonful of the Genuine Hall's Pulmonary Balsam taken at bed time will cure any cold, no matter where located.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers as fortified by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants. Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen sassafras roots and herbs all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U S Stamp unmutilated over the cork with plantation scene and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U S Law and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies clergymen merchants, &c. is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists grocers physicians hotels saloons steamboats and country stores.

Only a Tramp

Only a tramp squalid and vile
Smoking his pipe on a roadside stile

Soiled and sullied without and within
By many a sorrow and many a sin

Cometh a maiden tripping by,
With a rosy cheek and a laughing eye:

A bonnie flower o' life's sweet spring,
A darling gem in a rare home-ring

He turns to watch her by and sighs
With a wistful look in his poor bleared eyes.

What does it mean? Is he thinking it wis
Of a life that's better and sweeter than his!—

Sweeter than skulking and lolling here
Better than brutal greed and beer?

Of a happy home and a wee wife sweet,
And the patter of little children's feet?—

I cannot tell But this I know—
The man is not wholly lost and low

Though the flower of his life all faded stands,
Withered and soiled in the world's hot hands:

Though his heart be cankered by sin and fret
There is something of goodness in him yet—

Some half-dim rays of rarer sheen,
Of a better life that might have been

There are hidden stars in the darkest night,
In the blackest bosom gleams o' light:

We are none of us from sin stains free
As pure and as just as we ought to be

And which of us here shall dare to stamp
His brother at last, though "Only a Tramp!"

Henry S. Foote on the Rebellion.

SECRET HISTORY—JEFFERSON DAVIS—THE REBEL CABINET—GENERAL HINDMAN, ETC.

[From the New York Evening Post, February 13th.]

Harper & Brothers will publish this week a work by H. S. Foote of Mississippi, entitled "War of the Rebellion, or Scylla and Charybdis; Consisting of Observations on the Causes, Course and Consequences of the late Civil war in the United States." As will be gathered from the title, Mr. Foote gives in this volume his opinions on the war and the causes which led to it. He discusses the political history of the country from the settlement of the colonies rapidly, and blames Abolitionists and Secessionists alike for the war. He is of opinion that sectional parties brought on the war; he seems to forget that slavery caused the sectional parties; he seems to imagine that it was only the result of political squabbles.

His discussion of political questions has little value or interest. It is an attempt to warm up very stale meats. There are issues and questions so dead that they can never be infused with life again, now that the struggle is over which killed them. The nation has stepped a step higher—it does not care to turn back and carefully examine the road through which it has passed. But Foote [illegible] his book [illegible] of public men, some of which are of interest. Here is a sketch of

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

I knew him first in the city of Vicksburg more than thirty years ago as Lieut—ant Davis. He was then a young man of modest and pleasing aspect and manners, but gave slight indication of any abilities likely to lead to distinction. He married, left the army and settled himself on a plantation of respectable dimensions in the southern part of the county of Warren, some twenty miles from Vicksburg, where he has constantly lived since, until he became President of the Confederate States.

Davis and his official associates had no correct [illegible] of the true character and dimensions of the war into which they had so hastily plunged, as was afterwards frankly confessed in many a [illegible] harangue, and in more than one solemn [illegible] document. They did not believe at first that the conflict would endure for a twelve-month, and were even weak enough to calculate most confidently upon strong Northern aid, which it is now well known there never was the least probability of their receiving; albeit ex-President Pierce and several others, whose letters to Davis have recently seen the light, had plied their confiding personage with exalted promises of support, upon which he built in part his hopes of one day wielding an [illegible] sceptre. As to the interposition of foreign Powers in behalf of the now warring States of the South, though many deceitful assurances were received from abroad at different periods of the contest, no man of sound intellect anywhere now supposes that either the French or English [illegible] ever seriously thought of interfering. [illegible] a trans-Atlantic Davis vetoed more bills during the short provisional regime than all the Presidents of the United States put together, from Washington to Lincoln inclusive, and no attempt to pass a bill over his head was ever made.

DAVIS' CABINET.

There were only two of these functionaries whose official qualifications were even respectable—the Attorney General—Watts, of Alabama—and the Postmaster General—Reagan of Texas. The Secretary of War—Benjamin, besides his inability to meet the military exigencies which he had been encountering, as well as the more serious ones in prospect, was subject to other objections [illegible] position of the [illegible]. His reputation for integrity had never been good and of late years it had become deeply tarnished by his known participation in acts of [illegible] both in the State of Louisiana and in Washington City. The [illegible] odor arising from the [illegible] (one of the most unblushing and profligate legislative transactions that had [illegible] the annals of a free people) had [illegible] such a stigma upon the reputation both of Benjamin and his friend and patron, John A. Slidell, as it was not possible that any lapse of time would entirely efface.

[illegible]

[illegible] the time that I was laboring most [illegible] to relieve the Department of War of Benjamin, by calling forth, as far as it might be in my power to do so, [illegible] responses from the people, an occurrence took place in social life in Richmond which had much effect, not only upon the fate of Benjamin, but which in the sequel had much influence also upon the course of public [illegible]. I chanced to be invited to a dinner party where the [illegible] of the most prominent members of the two houses of the Confederate Congress were congregated, including the Speaker of the House of Representatives (Orr of South Carolina) and others of equal rank. General Joseph E. Johnston was also an invited guest. While the [illegible] was proceeding, Benjamin's great acts of [illegible] the subject of conversation, one of the company turned to General Johnston and enquired whether he thought it even possible that the Confederate cause could succeed with Benjamin as War Minister. To this inquiry General Johnston, after a little pause, emphatically responded in the negative. This high authority was immediately cited in both houses of Congress against Benjamin, and was the [illegible] of his [illegible] in the Department of War.

Davis, after deferring the sending in of his nominations for Cabinet appointments, under the permanent Constitution, for nearly four weeks, in order to have it in his power to persuade the Senate to confirm Benjamin as Secretary of War, in the event of his being renominated, ultimately relinquished this object in despair—that body, however accommodating it was in general to Executive fancies, having been found now unwilling to participate in the terrible responsibility of such an act. Benjamin was finally nominated for the Department of State, and was confirmed, by a very small majority, for that place, where he had it in his power, both abroad and at home, to perpetrate more hard acts of corruption and profligacy than any single individual has ever been known to commit in the same space of time in any part of Christendom. I will here remark, in passing, that this frank and manly declaration of General Johnston rendered both Davis and Benjamin alike hostile to him, and he was fated to experience the effect of their malevolence on more than one subsequent occasion previous to his ultimate deprivation of military command.

Very great mischief notoriously resulted to the Confederate cause from the long retention in the office of Commissary General of Colonel Northrop. This person is understood to be a native of South Carolina, and had spent some years in the city of Charleston anterior to the war as a practitioner of medicine, upon the vegetarian system. Some mysterious circumstances, not heretofore explained, had in some way, many years previous to the commencement of the war, established relations of special amity and confidence between himself and Davis, in consideration of which he had been located in an official position for which he was in every way as utterly unfit as any human being could be well imagined to be. His appearance was most unprepossessing, indeed; his manners were coarse, overbearing and insulting; his temper was austere, crabbed and irritating; he was utterly ignorant of the duties of the post assigned him, and was not at all solicitous to make himself acquainted with them. His self-esteem was the most inordinate that I have ever known any human being to possess, and no man at all capable of judging of such a matter would have regarded him as in all respects compos mentis. A general impression had long prevailed in Charleston that he was, in point of fact, more or less disordered in mind, and during the three years that I occupied a seat in the Confederate Congress, I received numerous letters from persons of the highest respectability residing there, urging me, in the warmest terms, to aid in displacing him from the position which he was so signally disgracing.

I am not prepared to say anything in regard to his pecuniary honesty. It is undoubtedly true that all over the Confederate States he had men employed to purchase supplies for his department of notoriously bad character not a small number of whom are known to have accumulated large fortunes during the war, the names of some of whom I could, were it necessary, quite easily specify, having brought their iniquities heretofore to the view of the Confederate Congress. The heartless tyranny practiced by this monster of iniquity in all the States of the South in connection with the system of forcible impressment established has, I am persuaded, scarcely ever been equaled. His brutal indifference to the sufferings of the Confederate soldiery, by all of whom he was most cordially detested; his indecent and habitual disregard of the requisitions made upon his department, from time to time by the various military commanders with whom he was necessarily thrown into contact; his open and notorious employment of disrespectful and contemptuous language in regard to those in official station to whom he was legally subordinate, are matters upon which it would be now superfluous to dwell.

Yet he was retained in the Commissary Department for four years in utter contempt of remonstrance, of complaint and of direct and positive accusations of delinquency. It is even true that Northrop was not a constitutional officer after the commencement of the permanent Confederate Government he was never nominated to the Senate. But though this matter was brought to Davis' special notice by grave proceedings in both houses of Congress he still held on to Northrop, nor did he ever deign to present his name to the Senate for the sanction of that body up to the last moment of his own official existence.

SEDDON.

The career of Seddon as Secretary of War will long be remembered by all who ever entered the War Department while he sat enthroned therein with unmingled regret and indignation. It may be safely asserted that he did not possess one of the qualities needful to a creditable and useful performance of the duties which were now devolved upon him. He was never able to learn even the ordinary routine of official business, and often scornfully declined attendance to matters of the most urgent importance. He was as arrogant and insulting to those who approached him in his official sanctum, as he was notoriously servile and fawning to his own executive chief. He evinced, from his very entrance into office, an utter disregard of all constitutional obligations; and in the exercise of the authority committed to him he proved himself to be the most heartless and ruffianly tyrant whom I ever yet saw in the possession of official power. Though he had always been an ardent State Rights man in profession up to the breaking out of the war, it soon became evident that he had never sincerely cherished the smallest regard for the principles embodied in the well known State Rights creed; and he habitually trampled under foot, and without a blush upon his livid and atrabilious visage, all the anciently recognized muniments of State sovereignty.

SEDDON AS A CHEAT.

And yet Davis retained this man in the office of Secretary of War, and continued indications of popular indignation and disgust, from month to month and from year to year; nor would he have been seen at last to vacate the official position which he had so long deeply dishonored, but for the undeniable fact that I had directly charged him upon recorded testimony, that is to say, upon the evidences supplied by the books of his own department, of having caused to be paid to himself by his own official subordinates, forty dollars per bushel for his whole crop of wheat for the year 1864, while he was, by the instrumentality of forcible impressment, compelling the farmers of North Carolina, Georgia and other States, to yield up their wheat to the Government officials at the inadequate price of from seven to nine dollars in Confederate paper. I made this exposition in the last speech which I delivered in the Confederate Congress. Seddon resigned the War Department the very next day. As Chairman of a special Committee of the Confederate Congress, organized at my own instance, for the purpose of inquiring into cases of illegal imprisonment, I obtained from the Superintendent of the prison-house in Richmond, under the official sanction of the Department of War itself, a grim and shocking catalogue of several hundred prisoners then in confinement therein, not one of whom was charged with anything but suspected political infidelity; and this, too, not upon oath in a single instance. Before I could take proper steps to procure the discharge of these unhappy men, the second suspension of the writ of liberty occurred, and I presume that such of them as did not die in jail remained there until the fall of Richmond into the hands of the Federal forces.

GENERAL HINDMAN ONE OF DAVIS' PETS.

General Hindman, of Arkansas, when a very young man, had, in the State of Mississippi, been a most noisy and unscrupulous advocate of Jeff Davis and secession as at that time propounded—had afterward gone to Arkansas, where he had led, for several years, a very turbulent and disreputable life, but, by force of party drill, had been sent for a year or two to the Federal Congress—when the war broke out, was almost immediately given a high military command, and was rapidly promoted, until, as a Major General, he was sent to the State of his own residence, for the purpose of holding an important position there. This man, as his own formal report to the War Department evidenced, finding, as he said, that the very comprehensive provisions of the Conscription Law were not quite comprehensive enough to suit his purposes, deliberately amplified them by proclamation; declared martial law throughout Arkansas and the northern portion of Texas, and demanded the services of all whom he had thus illegally and tyrannically embraced in his own wide-sweeping conscription [illegible].

All who refused to obey his mandate, as he expressly confesses, he [illegible] subjected to trial by a military Court appointed at the instant by Hindman himself, and, when convicted, as a considerable number were, of an offense, which he unblushingly acknowledges, in the same report wholly unknown to the law of the land, he had them executed, and going even beyond the infernal Jeffreys himself in barbarity, he, as he also ostentatiously declares in that same report, took care to be present to witness the dying agonies of his victims. This man seized upon all the cotton and other property for which he had use, as he boldly avows, burnt some, retained some, and appropriated a third portion to such purposes as he pleased. His cruelties were so enormous in Arkansas that it became unsafe that he should remain there longer.

THE ERLANGER LOAN.

The celebrated Erlanger loan, the proposition to enlist in which came to Richmond under the sinister auspices of John A. Slidell, seemed to a considerable number of the members of the Confederate Congress to be a speculative project, adroitly set on foot chiefly for the benefit of Slidell, Benjamin & Co., their aiders and abettors in the United States and in foreign countries, and we therefore struggled most earnestly to defeat it by every expedient known to parliamentary tactics. By the aid of the celebrated ten-minutes rule and the sitting with closed doors, it was finally carried by a somewhat meagre majority in the House.

FOREIGN INTERVENTION.

The fact was very well known to me that Davis and his friends were confidently looking for foreign aid, and from several quarters. It was stated in my hearing repeatedly, by several special friends of the Confederate President, that one hundred thousand French soldiers were expected to arrive within the limits of the Confederate States by way of Mexico, while it was more than rumored that a secret compact, wholly unauthorized by the Confederate Constitution, with certain Polish Commissioners, who had lately been on a visit to Richmond, had been effected, by means of which Davis would soon be supplied with some twenty or thirty thousand additional troops, then refugees from Poland, and sojourning in several European States, which latter force, when it should arrive, not being levied under constitutional authority, would be completely at the command of the President, for any purpose whatever.

The New York World of a late date has over a column of comments upon what it is pleased to term the "The Radical Whip." The burning words of those who, in our Congressional halls fearlessly apply the lash of truth to error, hypocrisy and deceit, are too much for the poor, drivelling World, and it twists and squirms and writhes and wriggles beneath the smarting blows daily being dealt upon the cowering backs of itself and the slavish party it represents. Says the World: "So crack the Radical whip in Senate and House. It is these Republican fanatics who are now the lords of the lash. The fictitious insolence of Mrs Stowe's Legree blushes to find how mild it is beside the imperious insolence of these legislative Legrees." Good! Why don't the World carry out the figure, and style itself and faction the black slaves of corruption and deceit, whom this same "radical whip" in the hands of these "Legislative Legrees" is lashing into something like decency. The World has always been a strong partisan of the "divine institution." Why, then, should it wince when "plantation manners" and the "slave-driver's whips" are brought to bear upon itself?—Illinois State Journal.

Tom Corwin used to tell of a philanthropist who was governed by the following rules of life. "Never refuse to drink with a man, because it won't cost you anything," second, "never ask a man to drink, because it will cost you something, and might lead the man into bad habits," third, "never mind what happens, as long as it didn't happen to you."

Mr Nasby Suggests a Plan for the Up-Building of the Democracy

CONFEDERATE X ROADS (which is in the Stait of Kentucky), January 27, 1866.

Hallelooyah! Hallelooyah! Hallelooyah! I see a lite! It booms onto me! It peenytrates me! It fills me! Joy to the world!

I hev diskivered the cause uv the decline uv the Democrisy. I seed it yisterday. I wuz wandrin in on the nabborhood hills, a musin onto the depravity of humanity as exemplified in the person uv the growsery keeper uv the Corners who unanimously refoosed to giv me further credit for corn whisky, which is the article they pizen themselves with in this country. He assured me he hed the utmost regard for my many virtoos, but he diskivered that the one he prized the most I hedn't so many uv, to wit: that uv payin fur my licker. Therefore the ackount must be considered closed. Then for the first time in my life I believed in total depravity.

While musin in a melunkoly mood on this dark cloud which fell across my pathway, and the fall of the Dimecratic party, I came onto a party uv men borin fur ile. The trooth flashed over me—their operations showed me the way to success—the shoor path to triumph.

"When," sed I to myself, "when men seek gain they bore for it! They go down—never up. Even so with the Dimocrisy. We dug downward! dowdward! downward! through all the strata of society. We went through the groceries—the next stratum was the most ignorant uv the furriners—then we struck the poor whites uv the South; then below them the heft of the people uv Noo Gersey—then Southern Illinois and Indiana, then Pike county, Missouri, and so on! We never went upwards for converts cause 'twant no use—when a man wanted to jine us he allus hed to come down. We got lots uv converts.

There was a regular sliding scale which the heft uv Democrats who wuzn't born in the party hev slid down, to-wit:

Quarter dollar-smiles.
15 cent nips.
10 cent drinks.
5 cent sucks.
A flat flask concealed.
A bottle openly,
Democrisy.

We lost our hold for two reasons. First, the poor licker we hev now kills off our voters too fast, and the tax on whisky forced two thirds of our people to quit suckin, and es soon es they begin to git on their feet they jined the Abolitionists. Secondly, our leaders suppposed there wuz no lower stratum, to dig into, and they gave up in disgust.

But I hev diskivered that lower stratum—I hev found it, and when the idea flashed over my Webstorian intelleck I shouted Hallelooyah! The nigger is the lower stratum, and ef we bore down to it and work it thoroughly, we hev at least a twenty years lease uv power.

We must cultivate the nigger. He must hev the suffrage! It is a burnin shame that in the nineteenth centry, in the full blaze of intelligence, living under a Declarashun which declares all men "free and ekul," that a large body uv men shoud be denied the glorious privilege uv bein taken up to the poles and voted. Is not the Afrikin a man? Is he not taxed es we are, and most of the Democrisy, for many of them own property? Is he not ammenable to all the laws even es we is? Then why, I triumphantly ask, is he not entitled to a vote? Ah! why? indeed!

"But this is Ablishnism!" methinks I hear an obtoose Democrisy observe in horror—"and why give them votes, who will use them agin us?"

My gentle friend, will they use their ballot agin us? Ef I know myself, I think not. Kin they read? Kin they write? Aint the bulk of them rather degraded and low than otherwise? Methinks. Aint that the kind of stock we want, and the kind wich hes allus set us up? Readin hes allus bin agin us—every skool master is an engine of Ablishinism—every noosepaper is a curse. General Wise, of Virginia, when he thanked God there wuzn't a noosepaper in his deestrick, had reason to, for do you spoze a readin constitooency wood have ever kept sich a blatherskite es him in Congress, year after year?

Then agin, the Constooshnal Amendment will pass, givin representashen to voters alone. The Democratic States will have more members uv Congress, and more electoral votes, then afore the war, and them States we depend on.

But my skeem is still more comprehensive. Them niggers aint needed in the South. We'll send 'em North. A few thousand will overbalance the Ablishun majority in Noo Gersey, fifty thousand will bring Ohio back to the fold; the same number will do for Noo York and Pennsylvany, and the country is saved—we will be able to elect the President. Thus the pit the Ablishinist dug for us he'll fall into hisself—the club he cut for us will break his own head.

Honey hez kum out of the carcass, good hez proceded from Nazareth. The nigger smells sweeter to me now than nite bloomin Serious he is more perious to me than gold, or silver or preshus stones. He is the way and I shel walk in it. He shel lift me in a Post orfis. We must give our Afrikin brother, for is he not a man and a brother?—not only the suffrage, but he must own land, and the Democrisy must give it to him. I want Garrit Davis to instantly interdoose a section uv land, a pair uv mules and a cook stove, and each female Afrikin brother two flanin balloo dresses and a red bonnet. I want him to advocate the bill in a speech uv not more than two hours, so that it will stand some chance uv passin. On second thought I guess some other man hed better interdoose the bill, as the Sennit hes got into sich a habit uv votin down everything he proposes that they'd sluther this without considerin it, on jineral principles.

Then we've got 'em. Work as they may at it it'll take twenty years afore the Ablishinists kan edjukate 'em up to the standard of votin their tickit, and even that time won't do it, if we can git the tax taken off uv whisky so that we can afford to use it as in the happy days of yoore.

Goyously as I went home to lay the foundashun uv the new temple of Dimocricy I slept that night atween two niggers, and hev bin shakin hands and enquirin after the helth uv the families uv all I have met. Its rather hard for an orthodox Dimocrat—sich sudden shifts is rather wrenchin on the conshence, but what uv that? The Demicrat who hez follered the party closely for thirty years ought not to balk at sich a triflin change ez this, pertickiorly when it promises sich glorious results.

There's a lite about to gleam,
There's a fount about to stream,
Wait a little longer!

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

ARE NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, [illegible] it to the [illegible] of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all disease in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emission, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

U. S. Marshal's Notice.

WHEREAS an information has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, on the 16th day of February A. D 1866, by J. N Dolph Esq, District Attorney, against four boxes of cigars, one lot of leaf tobacco and one lot of loose cigars, alleging in substance, that on or about the 10th day of February, 1866, the said cigars and tobacco were found in the possession of one Frederick Fette, who was manufacturing cigars without a permit, as required by the laws of the United States, and praying process against said cigars and tobacco and that the same may be declared forfeited to the United States.

Now therefore, in pursuance of the warrant under the seal of said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said cigars and tobacco, or in any way interested therein, that they be and appear before the said District Court, to be held at the City of Portland on Monday, the 2d day of April, 1866, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, then and there to interpose their claims and make their allegations in that behalf.

Portland, March 12th, 1866.

U. S. Marshal's Notice.

WHEREAS, an information has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon on the 17th day of February, 1866, by J. N. Dolph Esq., District Attorney, against forty-five boxes of cigars alleging in substance, that on or about the month of January, 1866, the said forty five boxes of cigars passed out of the hands of the manufacturer, (and not into a bonded warehouse) without having stamps denoting the tax thereon so affixed upon the said boxes by an inspector; that the same could not be opened without effacing or destroying said stamps as by law provided; and praying process against said cigars, and that the same may be decreed forfeited to the United States.

Now therefore in pursuance of the warrant under the seal of said Court to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said forty five boxes of cigars or any way interested therein, to be and appear before the said District Court, to be held at the City of Portland on Monday, the 2d day of April, 1866 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, then and there to interpose their claims, and make their allegations in that behalf.
